INDEPENDENT.

IS IT RESPECTABLE?—Is what respectable? Why, is it respectable to be connected with a temperance organization in Massillon? Some think it is, and consequently are united in a social effort to promote the interests of a cause dear to the hearts of many of the best people here and elsewhere. The experience of the friends of this reform is this: They can withstand, in a moral sense, open, undisguised opposition That they know have meet; but the opposition of indifference is the greatest enemy with which the true advocates of this cause have to contend. Comparatively a small band of people are enlisted to promote the principles of of temperance in this community. Is it commendable, nay, is it reputable that this should be so? A great work is needed here in that direction. Is it expected that a few obscure individuals can carry out a great social revolution in this community? A person's sympathies are manifested by the way he talks. Converse with a large portion of the members of some ten or a dozen churches in town, and they are quite sure to refer to temperance reformers in the third person—that is, they may ask through curiosity. what are those temperance people doing to stop drunkenness among us? Very directly they dont boast as to what are we doing in this way in behalf of humanity. As it is of religious bodies so it is of the half dozen or more orders among us, all of which claim to be fraternal and charitable. Of the good traits of all these bodies we feel justly proud; they certainly deserve credit for the work they are promoting. But no individual among them is so obtuse as to be unable to see that the evil of intemperance among us is of such magnitude is to challenge the attention of all. Fortunate is that member of community who can boast that the demon of intemperance has not reached some relative, either near or more distant, and thus is suffering from its blighting curse more or less directly. Fathers, brothers, sons, and sadder to say, these are mothers, sisters and daughters who are personally the victims of alcohol. Now is it to be expected that a few individuals, none of them of commanding influence, are able to do battle successfully against the legions of intemperance? Some forty or fifty grogshops are flourishing here, and what is this community doing to avert their pernicious influence? Perhaps ninety nine out of hundred are either indifferent or in opposition to the temperance movement. Ought these things to be so? Is it creditable to Massillon that there is no more interest taken in this matter The little band of temperance reformers here, are trying to rescue the fallen, and we rejoice to say that in their number there are those who have felt the poison of the serpent, and are trying to lead a better life. We boast not of such achievements—it is our work—our duty—to rescue the fallen. We know that we have the sympathies of the good in our own as well as in every other vicinity; and sympathy is pleasent to all, but that alone will do nothing to alleviate those suffering from wrong. The enemy is active, cunning, unscrupulous, and everywhere throwing out temptations to our friends who have taken a life long pledge to free themselves from his grasp. These repentant men have the hearty symyathy and fraternal aid of our temperance band. Will not the good of all organizations help to sustain such as are trying to lead a sober life?

EDITORIAL AND PRINTERS' CONTION.

ALLIANCE, O., Nov. 2d, 1871.

The Editorial and Printer's convention for the 17th and 18th congressional districts convened in accordance with the call of the president, in the mayor's office.

The President, J. K. Rukenbrod, called the meeting to order, and after some general and instructive remarks, the minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

On motion a finance committee was appointed consisting of W B Foster and J V Lawler.

S D Harris, W G Mossgrove, and J V Lawler were appointed a committee on Resolutions.

The president suggested the following additional propositions for the consideration of the convention during its deliberations: Clubbing with Magazines, What shall Constitute a Printer's Square, A Uniformity in Charges for all Traveling Shows.

To the Editorial Convention,
Alliance, O.

Please do not count me out of your number because not present at your deliberations.

Pleasure and profit both urge me to be there, but pressing duties in other directions forbid.

Hoping the convention may prove in every way a success,

I am truly yours,
J. A. BRUSH,
Ed. Literary Advance.

Mt. Union, Nov. 3d, '71.

After which the convention adjourned to 7½ in the evening.

EVENING SESSION.

The committee on resolutions reported the following on the re-assembling of the convention.

Resolved, That we recommend the different papers in this district to charge, hereafter, in all contracts made with agents for foreign advertisements the same rates exacted from our local advertisements, net cash.

—That the charges for show advertisements should not be less that ten dollars per column for the first insertion, single column.

—That we regard the practice adopted by many of the local papers, of clubbing with magazines and eastern literary journals, as destructive to the interest of local papers and impolitic, and advise its abandonment.

—That, for the purpose of establishing uniformity among the trade, we recommend that a space of 300 ems of Nonpariel, in that or any other type, be regarded as a square.

—That the publishers of local papers, being interested in the prosperity of their several localities, and laboring for their success, have a right to expect at the hands of those whom they support, a living and liberal support, and we call upon the business men of the district to discountenance runners from from city rat job offices, and patronize those who labor to build up their interests.

—That we will not give employment to persons of intemperate and dissolate habits.

—That we recommend that the next meeting of this association be held at Warren, commencing on the second Thursday evening of May, at 7:30 o'clock.

—That the thanks of this convention be tendered to Mayor Laughlin for his courtesy in extending the free use of his room, lights, &c, on this occasion.

The above resolutions were thoroughly discussed by the members present, and when stripped of all doubtful features, were passed by an unanimous vote, with one exception.

Messrs. Reitzel, Brown and Frost, were appointed on business for next meeting.

The President, J K Rukenbrod, was selected as orator for the May meeting and A McGregor as poet.

Ashtabula and Geauga counties were, on motion, added to the district.

The membership fee was established at fifty cents.

The meeting was a very pleasant one to all present, as well as profitable, and it was the unanimous opinion of the members that a good and pleasant time awaits us in the hospitable and beautiful city of Warren.

J K RUKENBROD, Pres.
S G McKEE, Sec'y.

John Frost, orator for the occasion, delivered the following entertaining address, which the convention, by a unanimous vote, requested to be published with the proceedings.

So much has been said, and well said, in prose and song, in eulogy of the printing art, that it would be presumption, on this occasion, to pretend to utter anything new or perhaps even useful on the subject. A dabbler in items for a country paper cannot be expected to get up a connected document of any length, as the disposition is continually to run into variety; and a contribution from such a source might be placed under the head, Miscellaneous.

Every craftsman present is supposed to be more or less familiar with the history of the art preservative, and understands its details with the familiarity which becomes those who justly exult in the title, Typograp her. Nevertheless there may be suggestions expressed, though old to many or all, which will have to be the apology for what should be expected on this occasion.

I do not know that I can begin this essay better than to make a few brief notes as to the late improvements made in our occupation. When first initiated in the mysteries of the so called black art, in the year 1827, the labors of a printing office were conducted, in many respects, very differently from what they now are. That was about the era, in this part of the country, when the old Ramage press was bidding a long adieu to its position, and improved presses were being introduced in its stead. The Ramage was a two pull press—that is, the platen covered but one page (and but a five column page at that), and was brought down by screw power, a force not sufficient to print one side of a paper at one pull. The Stanberry press, one of its immediate successors, was worked with levers, and its platen and power were not sufficient for a paper larger than super royal, about 20 by 30 inches. We used to tug and sweat at that Satan's caudal with blistered hands on an edition of four hundred or five hundred papers; and press day was a formidable day in the week.

But the pressman did not monopolize all the hard work. Then we had no composition rollers—did not know forty-five years ago what they were, though some of us had read of such things. Our method of applying the ink was with two balls, each something like ten inches in diameter. The outside was made of soft buckskin, stuffed with curled, elastic, coarse hair, all tacked to a pair of wooden stocks with handles. To take ink and so dexterously handle those balls as to avoid picks, monks, friars and other blemishes, was proof of skill in the beater—especially if he could keep a good pressman busy, so that he would not violate the commandment, 'Thou shalt not swear.' In the long summer days we labored assiduously to get up our columns of small pica and bourgeois, so as to be ready for the press days; and we hesitated not when the nights became long, to work until ten and eleven o'clock by the light of tallow candles, frequently using our fingers for snuffers. Night work as the rule then, begun the evening after the October election, and continued till April following.

Then we knew nothing of job presses, all work was performed on the old Ramage or its immediate successors. In those days when election tickets were printed we used nothing but cap paper, and it was always wet for that purpose or any other, when printed on.

The printing paper made at that period was all hand made—sheets rough at the edges—not very smooth on the surface, and much of it any color but fair white.

But these things are all changed. We don't know now—at least many of our junior brethren are not familiar with what sort of thing a Ramage press was; and as to balls, modern young men have no idea of their appearance or use. Primitive as the balls were, they were capable of producing good press work, when properly handled; and could we see many specimens of skill and workmanship of forty years ago, considering the materials used, we would conclude that jobs were printed which might pass very well now.

Our modern presses, so well adapted to the various kinds of work required in the printing art, are so improved as to render labor on them almost play. No blistering of hands, no tugging and sweating at the great lever which moves the world; and no rub-a-dub with a pair of huge balls, in order to blacken the faces of ingeniously contrived types; but we turn on the steam, and straightway the machinery is set agoing, doing its own inking, with nothing for the pressman to do but to feed its voracious maw with paper—it does all the rest, even to throwing off the sheets; and we have such work done as challenges the admiration of all. Two thousand sheets a day was once a heavy task for two men—now two thousand to ten thousand excites the marvel of no one.

Having thus briefly reverted to our old way of producing works of the press, it may serve as a sort of introduction to a few remarks as to what is the duty, in some respects, of those who assume the responsibility of taking control of this agency.

In past times, cunning, physical power, stratagem and deceit were phases of the governing power. Now it is far otherwise among people who claim to have progessed in civilization and the arts. Mind, thought, ideas are the ruling spirits. The ancient saying "knowledge is power," was never more fully exemplified than in our day. That subtle thought, an entity, so to speak, which none of our senses can perceive, when it inspires some master mind, has set to work the requisite agencies that have effected the most marvelous results. Some of us can well remember when we had no telegraphs, no railroads, no photographs, no true science which described the nature and mysterious operations of the human mind, no intelligible system of phonography—but these and many other wonders of the age are now more or less familiar to us all. It was human thought and perception that discovered them all, and human ingennity that makes them useful and subservient to our wants. A Franklin (that old boss printer), and a Morse made the lightenings of heaven our servants, a Stephenson contrived the wonderful locomotive, imbuing it with its terrible power and great swiftness, a Daguerre brought to light the magic skill which so utilizes natures' laboratory as to make indelible the lineaments of the human face, a Gall and Spurzheim discovered and promulgated a clear system of mental philosophy, a Pitman reduced to absolute science the means of capturing thoughts as they gush from the lips of the living speaker, by the facile hand and quick apprehension of the phonographer.

But great as are all these manifestations of advancement, there is yet, I may safely assume, one which, in many respects, equals them all. Civilization although greatly crippled, might manage to contribute to the welfare of our race without the discoveries alluded to as it did for centuries previous to their development. But what a blank! oh, who can realize it? would the loss of the art of printing create! It is the favorite art that makes all the past improvements of the age in which we live familiar to the world. Dispense with the printing press, and what could our telegraphs, railroads, photographs, phrenology, phonography and many discoveries, all together, do to fill the void? Those two or three fortunate Germans, Faust, Guttenberg and Shaffer, made a discovery which gives life because it embalms and imparts animation to all else. Their eureka was the day break of the dark ages, and it unfolded mysteries for which all coming generations will pronounce them blessed. No encomium that I can conceive is adequate to extol beyond, or even equal to, its merits the art of printing.

It is possible that some of us by nature and qualification may not be fitted for the places we occupy, but we are in them, and as long as we try to fill them, we should be prompted by the most exalted aims that can animate human action. The position of the true editor may be regarded as that of a teacher. The thoughts to which he gives utterance in his columns, whether original or selected, may seem transient to the time of their expression, but they leave an indelible impress on some minds. It is said by some thinkers that no intelligent sound is made by the human voice that is not echoed; its reverberations never cease. The idea is, of course, that this fact is spoken of in a metaphorical sense, yet may there not be something literal in it? So it is in giving expression to our ideas in print, and promulgating them to the world. Humble as they may seem they do not die stillborn, but go forth on the mission for which they were sent. Those of us who have become familiar with these facts, from a quarter to a third of a century's observation, can verify this position.

Occupying this exalted position, then, our best judgement and discrimination should always be awake to the responsibility we assume.

It is with pleasure the fact may be recorded that the spirit of animosity which once prompted many editors to berate each other seems to be dying out. This is well. All of us when younger have been guilty of many indiscretions of this sort, but experience and observation should, and I hope will suggest to us the propriety of avoiding personalities. Discuss principles with all the freedom compatible with a sound judgment—do so earnestly, conscientiously, and an intelligent public will appreciate our efforts.

Our coming together at stated times, and meeting each other face to face has a salutary effect. It tends to modify those asperities which sometimes characterize allusions to each other when we were strangers personally. Editors, of all others, should shun that belligerent spirit which unpleasantly marks the forbidding man, let his position in life be what it may. I am fully pursuaded that there should be no incompatibility between the editor and the gentleman.

It seems to me that our proper status is not that of prophets, though at times in the ardency of our zeal for promulgating favorite theories or advocating certain measures, we may indulge in the spirit of forcasting the future—in imagination rather than in fact—what evils will betide the state if our plans are not carried out, or what favorable results will follow certain other schemes of policy. Of course it is a privilege we may indulge in, to a certain extent, of uttering our ideas as to what is or is not to be in the coming future. The apparently most philosophical and far seeing are not all frequently deceived in their vaticinations.

But if we cannot be prophets we can be the antithesis of this class—we can be historians. The records we make all contribute to furnish those who come after us as to what is transpiring in our day. Some fifteen or twenty years ago Mr. George W. Bungay, the essayist and poet, in pointing to the traits of notable men then living, in the earnestness of his enthusiasm, and perhaps indulging in a little poetic license, said that Horace Greeley was the recording angel of North America. No doubt Mr. G. has contributed a fair share toward transmitting to posterity the sayings and doings of the times, but it seems to me that he is not the only angel entitled to commendation for the success which has attended his efforts as a faithful recorder. Our Journals, Reporters, Chronicles, Gazettes, and Presses, all aid in making history; our Heralds, Republicans, Democrats, Tribunes, Independents, Statesmen, &c., may help to elucidate the mysteries of government, while the commercial, religious, scientific, literary and a hundred specialities are taken care of by their respective organs of thought.

This is a point to which we cannot pay too much attention. A publisher of a paper who is so careless as to pay no attention to preserving one or more complete files of the same is culpable of inexcusable negligence. Of so much importance do I deem this idea of preserving papers, that I would suggest that a law be enacted by our legislature, which should require of every publisher of a paper or magazine of any description in the state to send a copy of every issue to a state librarian, or other proper officer for that purpose, at the seat of government; and that it be his imperative duty to take particular care of these papers, and have them filed and bound every year. True, many of them may not seem to be of practical utility in this way, at first, but there is no periodical so insignificant but that it may be of value to posterity. Had something like it been done from the beginning in Ohio, what a wealth of history would now enrich our state! To prove this it is only necessary to advert to the fact that we are all eager to get hold of those little, old, dingy, yellow sheets, put through the Ramage presses of long ago; and those who are the fortunate possessors of such relics will not willingly part with them without a very tempting consideration.

As we are met together in a social and business capacity it may not be amiss to at least refer to an important point, one which interests us all, and that is order. I do not allude to it with the idea that any here are lacking in this regard, but there are degrees in the grace, if it may be styled such, which should command our attention. Some one well says that order is heaven's first law. In a printing office, where there is such variety, if it is properly conducted, this precept is indispensable. A place for everything and everything in its place, is a motto to which the careful printer pays much heed. Our business embraces a greater variety of tools, so to speak, perhaps than any other. Carelessness causes blunders. Our mistakes go out to a discriminating world, a large portion of whom have no idea of the thousand contingencies and liabilities under which we labor—often especially for lack of time. Our dish must be on hand at stated seasons, whether well cooked, half done, or raw, or else scolding will be done at our expense. The lawyer is expected to miss his with half the time because he has but one side to work for; the preacher may err in trying to instruct his hearers; but his mistakes are soon forgotten; the doctor, lucky fellow, it is said, often hides his errors under the ground, not so with the printer, especially the newspaper man. A thousand critics scan his work, and perhaps not one in ten can spell the word Chestnut or February correctly—but they can tell when the letter A is upside down. To all these the printer meekly submits, and tries to do better. Keep everything in its proper places, and those carpers will have less to do.

The position of a country editor is anything but a sinecure, if he does his duty well. If faithful he scarcely knows what rest is—his work seems not done till death comes with his dagger and writes finis to his career. In the good time coming it may be otherwise—for this consummation it is our duty to labor and wait.

In this desultory and very imperfect essay, gotten up at odd times, not without hearing the word copy pronounced at intervals, I have attempted to put together such ideas as occurred to me during their preparation, and if they serve no higher purpose, will answer to while away a few minutes in their reading. We have come together for business, not amusement, so I bring this piece to a close.

In New England only one person over twenty years of age in every four hundred of the native whites is incapable of reading and writing, and in the non slaveholding states, taken together, but one in forty inhabitants, or two and five tenths per cent, and this rate is very materially increased by the immigration of illiterate persons from Europe, for it is in these states that they nearly all settle. Besides, these embrace the new and sparse settlements of the west, where the institution of schools and attendance at them, is greatly embarrassed by the natural impediments of pioneer life. This must account for the fact that, twenty years ago, the illiterate of Indiana were seven and one quarter per cent. of the white inhabitants; while in New York and Pennsylvania they were less than three per cent, Arkansas and Tennessee, both affected alike by the system of slavery and sparseness of population, had above ten per cent, and North Carolina in the same condition, above thirteen per cent, in her white population who could not read and write at the age of twenty.

WHAT'S GRANT HAS SETTLED.

First of all, the rebellion.

Second, the fate of the democratic party for some years to come.

Third, the Alabama claims.

Fourth; General Butler's fishery war

Fifth, that we can and must have an honest government.

Sixth, that we can pay the national debt.

Seventh, that ku kluxism must be put down.

Eighth, that polygamy must disappear.

Ninth, that law and order must be maintained.

Tenth, the Indian question.

Eleventh, the reform of the civil service.

Twelfth, that the republican party cannot be broken up by Mr. Greeley and Mr. Schurz.

Thirteenth, the next presidency.

The way old Bourbon whisky is made is brought to light through a controversy going on between a man named Cutter who claims the right to manufacture what is known as the Cutter whisky, and some parties that have been making a spurious article. It is contained in a letter from Louisville, which says:

"The tea flavoring you speak of is very good. I have also used carrots. Take them and cut them into very small pieces, and parch them the same as coffee; put them into good spirits or rum, and let it stand for a few weeks. It adds very much to the age of whisky. Don't you think it will do well to mix the tea flavor and carrot together? also a few peaches parched in the same way, might do good. About what quantity of hot water would be best for six pounds of tea to have it of the right strength?"

Two Dollars a year, in advance.

Massillon, Wednesday, November 15.

T. V. R. R.—Our Medina friends are very enthusiastic at the idea of the opening of this road to that place. The last Gazette appropriates several columns to giving information to all interested, inviting attendance there to day on the first passenger train, which will reach the town. It certainly is a source of rejoicing to the people of Medina, and no one need marvel at the gladness evinced, for they have been isolated, so far as railroad communication is concerned. To the committee of invitation are we indebted for a special invitation to attend and participate in the celebration which takes place, but our engagements are such that it is imbpssible to comply with this kind solicitation. No doubt there will be a pleasent time, for the citizens are preparing to give their expected guests a hearty and cordial welcome. Not only will provisions be ample, with which to sate the appetites but arrangements are put into force to make it an enjoyable time. In their zeal to add interest to the doings of the day, the citizens of Medina have prepared the material to give their visitors a loud welcome, as a round of 100 guns are to assist in proclaiming their earnestness. In the evening ample preparations are made to exhibit a fine array of fire works; so that all who participate will be compensated in mingling with a happy and well to do community. A few short months ago the town was desolated by the greatest fire the place we experienced Since then it has risen from the ashes, and is now, we hope, starting on the high road to early prosperity. By the fourth of July, 1872 we hope to shake hands with our northwestern brethren, for then it will be our turn give them a hearty welcome. We shall then be bound with the iron links of interest as we have ever been by the ties of friendship. And in another year, no intervening obstacles hindering, the road will be extended to its southern terminus, so that we shall be close neighbors to our friends with both north and south of us. The railroad and telegraph are great unifiers—they bring the ends of the earth together, so that all nations shall be as one family. We hope nothing may happen to mar the pleasures to day at Medina—though that powder is a dangerous thing.

Two women of the District of Columbia prosecuted the election judges for refusing to take their votes at a recent election held there. The case was tried before Judge Carter, and he decided adversely to the women. It now goes to the U. S. court, for these women are determined to put the matter through. This last tribunal may also decide against them—if so the movement wont be stopped. Courts, juries, legislatures nor even the decision or congress is final on questions of this class. The ultimate arbiter is the good sense of the American people, intelligently expressed after careful and thorough examination. No fears but that this movement will ultimately prevail.

Wendell Phillips, often abused and misrepresented by fogies and antediluvians, who seem to live just a little after Adam died, continues to put forth his radical sentiments through the columns of the National Standard He may be denounced as ultra, or fanatical and impractical, but experience has proved, in a great many cases, that his seeming ultra radical jem was the philosophy that our states men and even our nation had to adopt. What has been will be again. Mr. P. is now earnestly advocating the temperance movement, and he is no half way man on that question. Politicians may scout his ideas as moonshine, but that wont stop their progress and power—if they are based on right the gates of hell shall not prevail against them.

A national council of the Congregational church is to be held at Oberlin, commencing to day. This is an unusual proceeding for that denomination, as heretofore each congregation regulated its own affairs, in the way of ecclesiastical government. At long intervals national councils have been held for special purposes, and it is probable something of more than ordinary nature induces the membership to send delegates to Oberlin. Under that title that church is little known here. In doctrines the Congregational church is said to be somewhat similar to the Presbyterian church.

Elections were held in some nine or ten states on Tuesday of last week, and taking all together it was a bad day for the democracy. It is true they succeeded in Maryland and Virginia, but they failed in Massachusetts, New York, were more than half beaten in New Jersey, with no chance for them in Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Kansas. The worst beat was in New York state—there from having a majority of 33,000, Gas Hoffman had in 1870, the democracy were were beaten by over 17,000. Tammany did the business. The leaders of that organization got to be the model thieves of the country—they stole by the million, all in the name of democracy. It made too big a load and they fell under it. Republicans, who have had dissensions among themselves harmonized, and large numbers of democrats, the honest and best men of the party, united with the republicans. In the senate there is reported to be 8 democrats and 24 republicans, while in the house there are 32 democrats to 98 republicans. Which makes the case a one-sided one. In Tweed's district there were enough of his sort to elect him to the senate by a large majority, but it is very questionable whether he will ever disgrace that body by presenting himself among them, as late accounts state that he is preparing to run off. If he dont get away he will be very apt to go to the penetentiary as there appears to be abundant evidence of his guilt. While the democrats elected their candidate for governor in the state of New Jersey, they have lost the legislature. And the reason the governor was successful was because he acted more against the democracy than the republicans last summer when great riots were threatened in New York. Taking all things together the 7th of this month was a very bad day for the democracy—rather worse than the 10th of October; and that was bad enough. If they can extract any consolation, in a political way, in favor of their party, from these signs of the times, they are more successful in taking advantage of adverssity than most of us humans.

A man came to town one day last week and says he found some of our citizens on a drunk—even a big drunk. Now this is not respectable. Our folks should behave better than that, or strangers visiting us will give us a bad name. Where can a man get drunk in Massillon? Is there a drunk making place in our corporation? We are curious to find such a location among us where they acknowledge to making people drunk; and furthermore, it would add to our knowledge of human frailty to have the man in town pointed out who acknowledges to getting tight. The stranger must have been mistaken—nobody gets tight here.

The Cleveland papers of last week give an account of another murder, which took place in that city. They characterize it as a whisky outrage. That is as natural as can be. Whisky and violence are as closely allied as the Siamese twins. In this case the murderer was a black man who killed a butcher. We have not read the particulars—the fact is sufficiently forbidding without the details. This is but one murder in addition to scores of others which have taken place within a few weeks in our country. Every day the sun shines on new whisky murders. There is no knowing when such a catastophe may transpire in our own vicinity—it is as liable as a thousand other places.

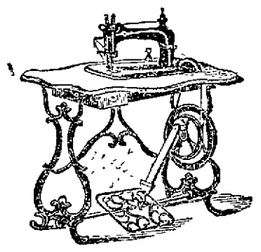
THE AMERICAN



Button-Hole, Overseaming

—AND—

Complete Sewing Machine.

The first and only Button-hole and Sewmachine combined that has made its advent in this or any other country.

☞The following reasons are given why this is the best

Family Machine to Purchase:

1. Because it will do everything that any machine can do, sewing from the finest to the coarsest material, hemming, felling, cording, braiding, binding, gathering and sewing on at the same time, ruffling, quilting, &c., better than any other machine.
2. Because the tensions are more easily adjusted than any other machine.
3. Because it can make a beautiful button hole, making as fine a pearl as by hand.
4. Because it will embroider over the edge, making a neat and beautiful border on any garment.
5. Because it will make a beautiful eyelet hole
6. Because it can do overhand seaming, by which sheets, pillow cases, and the like are sewed over and over.
7. Because you can quickly raise or lower the feed to adapt it to thick or thin cloth.
8. Because you have a short deep bobbin by which the thread is constantly drawn from the center; the tension is consequently even and does not break the thread.
9. Because the presser foot turns back; that the cloth can be easily removed after being sewed.
10. Because the best mechanics pronounce it the best finished and made on the best principle of any machine manufactured.
11. Because it has a better shuttle than any other machine.
12. Because it runs easier and quieter than any other heavy machine.
13. Because it is two machines in one—a button hole working and sewing machine combined.

It is to last a life time, and therefore one is wanted that will do the most work, and do it the best, and this machine can do several kinds of sewing not done on any other machine, besides doing every kind that all others can do.

The American or Plain Sewing Machine

Is a beautiful family and light manufacturing machine, possessing all the superior qualities of the combined machine, except making button holes and overseaming. In all other respects the principal of construction is the same.

These Machines are Warranted.

Sewing machine attachments of all kinds, machine needles and oil for sale at Sewing Machine Depot, in rooms of John Lowe, second floor, Opera Block. Don't fail to call and see them.

ONE MILLION OF LIVES

SAVED!

It is one of the remarkable facts of this remarkable age, not merely that so many persons are victims of dyspepsia or indigestion, but its willing victims. Now we would not be understood to say that any one regards dyspepsia with favor, or feels disposed to rank it among the luxuries of life. Far from it. Those who have experienced its torments would scout such an idea. All dread it, and would gladly dispense with its unpleasant familiarities. There are diseases more acute and painful, and which more frequently prove fatal; but none, the effects of which are more distressing to the body. If there is a wretched being in the world it is

A CONFIRMED DYSPEPTIC.

But it not our intention to discant on the horrors of dyspepsia. To describe them truthfully is simply an impossibility. We have said that dyspepsia is perhaps the most universal of human diseases. This is emphatically the case in the United States. Whether this general prevalence is due to the character of the food, the method of its preparation, or the hasty manner in which it is usually swallowed, is not our province to explain. The great fact with which we are called to deal is this:

DYSPEPSIA PREVAILS

almost universally.

Nearly every other person you meet is a victim, an apparently willing one; for were this not the case, why so many sufferers, when a certain, speedy and safe remedy is within the reach of all who desire to avail themselves of it? But says a dyspeptic, What is this remedy? to which we reply: This great alleyiator of human suffering is almost as widely known as the English language. This acknowledged panacea is none other than

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.

Would you know more of the merits of this wonderful medicine than can be learned from the experience of others? Try it yourself, and when it has fail ed to fulfill the assurance of its efficacy given by the proprietor, then abandon faith in it.

LET IT BE REMEMBERED

first of all, that Hoofland's German Bitters is not a rum beverage.

They are not alcoholic in any sense of the term. They are composed entirely of the pure juice or vital principle of roots. The extracts from which they are compounded are prepared by one of the ablest German chemists. The objections which hold with so much force against preparations of this class, namely—that a desire for intoxicating drinks is stimulated by their use, are not valid in case of the German Bitters. The effects can be in all cases of the biliary system. Hoofland's German Bitters stand without an equal, acting promptly and vigorously on the liver: they remove its torpidity and cause healthful secretion of the bile. They impart vigor and strength to the entire system, causing the patient to feel like an other being—in fact, giving him a new lease of life.

THEY PURIFY THE BLOOD,

Cleansing the vital fluid of all hurtful impurities and supplanting them with the elements of genuine healthfulness. In a word, there is scarcely a disease in which they cannot be safely and beneficially employed; but in the generally prevalent distressing and dreaded disease, dyspepsia,

THEY STAND UNRIVALED.

Now, there are certain classes of persons to whom expreme bitters are not only unpalatable, but who find it impossible to take them without positive discomfort. For such has been prepared. It is intended for use where a slight alcoholic stimulant is required. This tonic contains all the ingredients of the bitters, but so flavored as to remove the extreme bitterness.

HOOFLAND'S TONIC

acts with almost marvelous effect. It not only stimulates the flagging and wasting energies, but invigorates and permanently strengthens its action upon the liver and stomach thorough, perhaps less prompt than the Bitters, when the same quality is taken is none the less certain. Indigestion, biliousness; physical or nervous prostration, yield readily to its potent influence. It gives strength to weekness, throws despondency to the winds, and starts the restored invalid upon a new and gladsome career. But Dr. Hoofland's benefactions to the human race are not confined to his celebrated or his invaluable Tonic. He has prepared another medicine, which is rapidly winning its way to popular favor because of its intrinsic merits. This is a perfect substitute for mercury, without any of mercury's evil qualities.

GERMAN BITTERS,

These wonderful pills which are intended to act upon the liver, are mainly composed of Podophyllin, or the

VITAL PRINCIPLE OF MANDRAKE ROOT.

Now we desire the reader to distinctly understand that this extract of the Mandrake is many times more powerful than the Mandrake itself. It is the medical virtues of this health giving plant in a perfectly pure and highly concentrated form. Hence it is that two of the Podophyllin pills constitue a full dose, while anywhere six to eight or a handful of other preperations of the Mandrake are required. The Podophyllin stimulating its functions and causing it to make its biliary secretions in regular and proper quantities. The injurious results which invariably follow the use of mercury is entirely avoided by their use.

Possessing desirable qualities, the Podophyllin becomes invaluable as a

FAMILY MEDICINE

No household shou'd be without them. They are perfectly safe, require but two for an ordinary dose are prompt and efficient in action, and when used in connection with Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters, or Tonic, may be regarded as certain specifics in all cases of liver complaint dyspepsia, or any of the disorders to which the system is ordinarily subject. The act upon the stomach and bowels, carrying off improper obstructions, while the Bitters or Tonic purify the blood.

DR. HOOFLAND'S GREEK OIL.

Please read the following letter from a reliable druggist?

Mt Vernon, Ill., April 20, 1871.

Messrs. J N Harris & Cincinnati, O.

Gentlemen—I heard one of my customers speak in such high terms of Allen's Lung Balsam to-day, that I thought I would write You the substance of his statement. He says his mother, who is now sixty years of age, has suffered with consumption for several years, and has been under the care of all our best physicians, but never received any permanent benefit, then she resorted to almost every kind of cough and lung balsam that could be procured for her, but all of no avail. She still grew worse, until she was confinee to her bed; and when she was seized with a paroxysm of coughing she would lose the power of respiration, and they were compelled to resort to various means to restore breathing; and while she coughed so hard she could not expectorate anything and the family and friends had given up all hopes of her recovery. Her son noticed the advertisement of Allen's Lung Balsam in the Christian Advocate, and they thought they would procure and try it. They commenced giving her the balsam at 5 p m, as directed, a dose every hour until midnight; then she took another spell of coughing, and expectorated a mouthful of dark yellow matter, which was something she had not been able to do for some time. They continued to give her the balsam until morning, and then she began to expectorate freely, and within three hours she had expectorated three pints of mucus matter, which gave her immediate relief, and since that time she has continued to improve. She now sits up all day, and can walk about the house and take considerable out-door exercise. Her son bought more of the balsam to-day, and he is recommending it very highly to every one. Your, respectfully,

A C JOHNSON, Druggist.

Was there ever greater proof of merit than the case this letter refers to?

Allen's Lung Balsam is without doubt the best expectorant remedy ever offered to the afflicted public. It contains no opium in any form, and its use is harmless to the most delicate. ☞Directions accompany each bottle. J N HARRIS & Co Prorietors.

Vinegar Bitters are not a vile Fancy Drink. Made of Poor Rum Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and A LIFE GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the System, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. LOST—On Friday or Saturday last, a Gold Shirt Stud. The finder will confer a favor by leaving the same at this office.

Mr. John H. Ogden of this place, left at our office the other day a newspaper of more than ordinary interest—The China Mail. It is a daily published at Hongkong in the flowery kingdom. Seventeen of its twenty-four columns are filled with advertisements, which indicates a lively place. Shipping, insurance and other branches, such as are familiar to American readers, are the characteristics of this portion of the Mail. A place advertised for sale is thus described Kowloong Lodge—A pleasantly situated bungalow at Kowloong, about eight minutes walk from the landing place, near the village of Meng Kok. The bungalow has a commanding view of Hongkong, the harbor, and the islands of the westward, &c. The drama is there too, for an amateur dramatic club announce that they are going to do the Merchant of Venice in the way of burlesque. Prices of admission—boxes $15, stalls, $2. The editor's leader discusses the freedom of the port & some two columns, in which is criticised the manner of conducting its affairs. Locals follow, the proceedings of court, telegrams, &c. The heathen Chinee are becoming civilized, according to this intelligence.

Since Mrs. Brown delivered such an excellent temperance lecture here, we have been asked a great many times who is to speak next, or when she is coming back to favor us with another visit. She would like to be able to answer these questions satisfactorily, but as there are only a few who have to bear the expenses of these meetings we cannot rush along too fast. If our community will aid us in providing a small portion of stamps we will engage to have good speakers just as often as they will be needed. The meetings we have had waked up an interest on the temperance question, and that interest should be continued.

To Mothers and Nurses.—Mrs. Whitcomb's syrup for diarrhea, &c, in children, whether induced by teething or other causes, is the safest and best remedy.

Within a short time we have been favored at this office, by the arrival of some beautiful new wood and metal types. Daily are we expecting still other accessions in this line, as more types have been sent for, and they of the latest and handsomest styles. Having our steam engine and a press that is unequaled in many respects, we hope to accommodate customers with as good work and at as reasonable rates as they can find any where in this vicinity. True, this new material is expensive, but we are disposed to not let that fact hinder us from providing the best to be had—all for the advantage and benefit of our patrons. So bring on the orders, and they will be promptly filled.

GREAT FORTUNES—How they are made is the title of a new and highly valuable book of 633 pages, just issued by Hannaford & Co, Cincinnatti. The author, Mr. James McCabe, has done a good thing for the young men of our country in presenting for their consideration and example a large array of eminent men in many of the avocations of life, how they attained celebrity and thus stimulate them to emulate these successful heroes. The work is liberally illustrated by elegant engravings, and is printed in superior style. The agent, Rebecca Trimble, is now canvassing in this place for the book.

Meeting of the next mite society of the Christian church will be at the residence of Mr. Orrville Brown, corner of South and Hill streets. It is a pleasant way of spending an hour or so at these social gatherings.

These long, moonless nights remind us that gas light on the streets will be very acceptable—but that is soon coming, as work is progressing in that direction as rapidly as possible.

Lovers of the "weed" will find something to interest them in the advertisement of Mr. Demuth, in another column, headed Smokers.

We understand that Mr. Q. W. Reeves, of the Marble Works, has recently contracted to furnish one of those beautiful Scotch granite monuments so popular in the east, in memory of Wm. Brown, Esq. late of this city. It is to be made at the quarries of Glasgow, Scotland, and will cost when erected here the sum of two thousand dollars. It is the first one of this material erected in our cemetery, and will be a crowning addition to the monumental beauty of our burial ground.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—On Thursday last, as Mrs. George Williams and daughter were on their way to Massillon, their horse became frightened near Mr. Heppard's Mill; Mrs. W. was thrown out backwards and received slight injuries. Miss Sadie was thrown out while the horse was running. She had one arm broken at the wrist, the bones of one foot dislocated, and also received injuries on the head; she was insensible when taken to the house of Mr. H. Dr. Gerould was called and rendered medical and surgical aid. Miss W. at this writing is doing well.

By the last number of the Alliance Local we notice that bro. McKee has disposed of his interest in the paper to his partner, Mr. Gillespie. The now sole proprietor proposes to take sides in politices—the Local has been neutral—and come out in favor of the republican cause. He also designs dispensing with the foreign bowels and lessening the paper one column, all of which is most sensible and praiseworthy. We hope he may prosper. There is some talk of another paper at Alliance, but two are quite sufficient—there is not room for three.

Last Sunday was the time appointed for members of the various Y M C A's in our own and other counties to come together at places designated for the purpose and engage in prayer and other appropriate exercises in behalf of the prosperity of these associations. A number of our citizens met together on that day, for such a purpose, at the Presbyterian church, and for some time attended to these duties in a spirit of earnestness, manifesting a feeling of encouragement at the success of the association which is located here. True it has not done as great things as are reported elsewhere, but it has survived about a year, an assurance that it will be continued. Its object, seems to us, is to make those better who are connected with it, and for that reason we hope it may flourish.

The Parables of the New Testament practically unfolded, is the title of a devotional work, just published by Rt Rev W B Stevens D D, bishop of the diocese of Penn Elegantly illustrated with steel engravings beautifully bound, and handsomely printed on good paper. Aside from its attractive appearance, the rare excellence of its reading matter commends it to general approbation. All the principal parables recorded in the N. T., some twenty five are elucidated by this writer in such a way as to render them doubly attractive to every Christian reader. The work deserves general circulation. A lady is now canvasing the city for subscribers to it, and will present its claims to our people. Of this new work the press speak in terms of commendation, and among de vout people it will hold a high position as a book worthy their attention.

Joseph Tritt, a rather active old gentleman of ninety years of age was in this office the other day. He offers for sale his real estate in Green tp., near Tritt's Mill—sale on the 24th. Andrew Paul of West Brookfield offers his house and lot for sale on the 18th inst.

By items in the papers we notice that the A. & G. W. road has purchased the Niles and New Lisbon R R., and contemplates extending the same down Beaver valley to the Ohio river. This will materially enhance the value of that new thoroughfare, and be a source of great profit to the purchasers thereof. The Patriot of New Lisbon says another railroad project is contemplated, having for one of its principal points that town. If carried out it will make the place a center of a large and extensive business—perhaps of manufactoring also, as all the elements are there, excepting enterprise.

Friday was an unusually dark day here. In some places it became necessary to use artificial light in order to carry on various kinds of work. This vicinity was favored the night previous, and on that day, with several fine showers of rain, accompanied with lightening and thunder in day time. Such fine rains have not favored us for months, and they proved invaluable in many respects, as vegetation was needing moisture. Many of the wells were dry, and perhaps are yet as it will need a week's rain to replenish them.

Among the finest improvments across the canal, on Main street, we notice that Mr. Altekruse has overhauled his premises, and makes the location present a nice, new appearance. His show windows are admirably adapted to his business.

Morris' Minstrels gave an entertainment last Friday evening to a fair sized audience in the Opera House, and so far as we hear an expression they rendered very general satisfaction. They made some very fine music, and produced a large stock of fun for their patrons. There are some characters among them who fill their places very well and would jerk a laugh out of a cynic, if not more hardened to the mollifying nature of amusement. This company is from Boston, and were the appearance of genteel looking men. The little fellow was a favorite with with the crowd.

A coal stove, suitable for an office, can be had on easy terms by calling at this office—as there is such an article here for sale.

Such enterprise deserves success, and we advise our readers to send for a specimen copy of the paper. New subscribers will receive the paper free until January 1st.

THE AMERICAN WASHER!

PRICE, $5.50.

The American Washer saves Money, Time, and Drudgery.

The Fatigue of Washing Day no longer dreaded, but Economy, Efficiency, and Clean Clothing sure.

In calling public attention to this little machine, a few of the invaluable qualities, (not possessed by any other washing machine yet invented,) are here enumerated.

It is the smallest, most compact, most portable, most simple in construction, most easily operated. A child ten years old, with a few hours practice, can thoroughly comprehend and effectually use it. There is no adjusting, no screws to annoy, no delay in adapting. It is always ready for use! It is a perfect little wonder! It is a miniature giant, doing more work and of a better quality, than the most elaborate and costly. One half of the labor is fully saved by its use, and the clothes will last one half longer than by the old plan of the rub board. It will wash the largest blanket. Three shirts at a time, washing thoroughly! In a word, the ablution of any fabric, from a quilt to a lace curtain or cambric handkerchief, are equally within the capacity of the Little Gem! It can be fastened to any tub and taken off at will.

No matter how deep rooted a prejudice may exist against Washing Machines, the moment this little machine is seen to perform its wonders, all doubts of its cleansing efficacy and utility are banished, and the doubter and detractor at once become fast friends of the machine.

We have testimonials without end, setting forth its numerous advantages over all others, and from hundreds who have thrown aside the unwieldy, useless machines, which have signally failed to accomplish the object promised in prominent and loud sounding advertisements.

It is as perfect for washing as a wringer is for wringing. The price another paramount inducement to purchasers, has been placed so low that it is within the reach of every housekeeper, and there is no article of domestic economy that will repay the small investment so soon.

All that is asked for this great labor saver, is a fair trial. We guarantee each machine to do its work perfectly. Sole agents for the United States,

A MIRACLE.

Mr. Samuel Bell, of W F Schmertz & Co wholesale boot and shoe Manufactorers, 31 Fifth Avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa. has been afflicted with chronic rheumatism for thirty years, from his right hid to his foot having to use a crutch and a cane, and at times so painful as to utterly incapacitate him from attending to his business. Having tried every remedy known, without effect, except Gilliland's Pain Killer, he was finally induced to try it. A second application enabled him to lay aside his crutch, and a third effected a permanent cure. Mr. Bell, as a popular and well known citizen, is a living monument of the efficacy of that great medical discovery Gilliland's Pain Killer. The afflicted should ask their grocer or druggist for it, and try its power. Mr. Gilliland, we understand, wants a respectable agent in every town and country for it. The principal office is at 72 Third Avenue, Pittsburgh Pa.

JURUBEBA

WHAT IS IT?

It is a sure and perfect remedy for all diseases of the liver and spleen, enlargements or obstruction of intestines, urinary, uterine or abdominal organs, poverty or a want of blood, intermittent or remittent fevers, inflamation of the liver, dropsy, sluggish circulation of the blood, abscesses, tumors, jaundice, scrofula, dyspepsia, ague and fevers or their concomitants.

Dr. Wells having become aware of the extraordinary medicinal properties of the south American plant, called sent a special commission to that country to procure it in its native purity, and having found its wonderful curative properties to even excell the anticipations formed by its great reputation, has concluded to offer it to the public and is happy to state that he has perfected arrangements for a regular monthly supply of this wonderful plant. He has spent much time in experimenting and investigating as to the most efficient preparation from it, for popular use, and has for some time used in his own practice with most happy results the effectual medicine now presented to the public as

Dr Wells' Extract of Jurubeba.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

"A pastor is greatly esteemed among his people, but wholly fails to edify as a preacher; does other pastoral work well, and is so amiable and good that no one is willing to intimate that his ministry does not satisfy, yet the church pines under dull and lifeless preaching. How can regard for the pastor and justice to the church be reconciled?"

We divide our answer, half to the preacher and half to the church.

To the minister we say—Suppose a man have a gift as a shoemaker and not as a carpenter, what shall he do? Suppose a man have a gift as a pastor and not as a preacher, what shall he do? And further, suppose that a given community is in want of carpenters but not shoemakers! Such cases are not uncommon.

Let every man work according to the gift that is in him; and if there be no demand for the kind of work in which he is skilled, let him move on and find work. If in all the land there is no demand for his peculiar gifts, let him learn another trade.

This is the hard law under which Christian mechanics must needs live, and we see no reason why the same law should not apply to Christian preachers. In the long run the law will be found inexorable, With this conclusion the words of Jesus agree: "If they will not hear ye in one city go ye to another."

Nor should unacceptable preachers fall into a reproachful habit. The duty of prophets to preach is declared in the same Scripture which bids them also be silent while the people judge. The church is as truly in the line of duty when declaring certain sermons unprofitable, as the preacher is in preparing and preaching them.

It will never do for the preacher to fall into a way of thinking that the times are dark and the church backslidden because he is not acceptable. Let him rather after reasonable trial, accept with all humility the verdict of the churches, and cease preaching, and turn his hand to any honest industry. So doing he will certainly find great peace of mind and self respect.

To the church we make answer: Is preaching your only means of grace? Are you so reduced that you cannot thrive by any of the gifts of the spirit except one? Is it worth while to continue your existence as a church when all that you accomplish is the support of a speech maker?

Masons and Odd Fellows keep their lodges going without preaching. Have they a rounder and fuller social life than than you—a Christian church? In Sunday service is the sermon all? If your pastor furnish feeble sermons, cannot you make devotional music? Cannot a profitable service be composed of music, Scripture and prayer, without a sermon? Have you not a hundred children to be educated together in your Sunday school? Have you not households which need help in putting their boys and girls to honorable trades? Are there not social habits and fashions about which the church should consult, testifying against the evil and illustrating the good? Is not libraries needed in the neighborhood of your church? Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report, if there be any virtue and if there be any praise, think on these things, and be not intent on preaching only.

Our own impression is that under certain circumstances there can be a very thriving, useful, and happy Christian church without any professional preacher; and on the other hand, that a church whose life comes and goes according to the ability of its preacher will be found in no long time to be not a Christian church;—at any rate but a feeble one—Christian Union.

The true cause of the inequality of the sexes—In early life the boy masters his opportunities, whilst the girl commonly misses hers.

Cincinnati has an apparatus for consuming her own smoke. If she would now take another stroke and consume her own whisky, we might point to her with pride.

A German being required to give a receipt in full, after much mental effort, produced the following: 'I ish full. I wants no more monish. John Swachhammer.'

Private sorrow may overcome a man who could brave a hundred battles, or bear the acutest pain without a murmur.

Always consult discretion—it is more discreet to be silent than to speak when it is not accompanied by sense and reason.

A Negro's Toast.—De gubnor ob de state, Dough he hab a berry white skin he hab a berry brack heart, an' dough he cum into offis wid great opposition he he will go out widout any at all.

A great deal of sport has been made of the old woman who kissed her cow; but what should be said of the thousands of young women who have kissed great calves?.

Horace Greeley has just bought a new overcoat. Is our civilization a failure, or is the Caucasian played out?

A man painting the cornice of a house fell from a ladder, and it was supposed that he was badly hurt. Immediately after the fall a young man ran to the shop to inform the painter of the misfortune that had befallen his workman. The boss listened to a thrilling description of the accident, and, with the ruling passion strong within him, asked, anxiously, 'Did he spill his paint?'

Dr. J. LONG,

Eclectic Physician,

Has located himself at Massillon, O., for the treatment of Female & Chronic Diseases.

Office east of the Park, second door of Mr. Falke's new building.

All consultations and examinations of patients made free of charge.

Dr. Long examines and explains your disease without asking any questions. If he understands your case you know it, and cannot be deceived. If he cannot tell your disease, and how you feel without asking questions he does not consider himself competent to treat your case. This is the criterion to go by, and patients should not be satisfied with any other. This is the only direct and positive evidence of my ability as a scientific physician, and by this standard I am willing to be judged.

A proper diagnosis of local disease, without constitutional symptoms, that is, not affecting the system generally, must depend upon the judgment of both patient and physician.

Give Dr. Long a call, and satisfy yourselves whether he understands your cases sufficiently well to treat them successfully.

Dr. Long may be consulted in the German and English languages. Address letters,
